WASHINGTON, DC -- Alycia Riedl, a Minneapolis-based insurance agent, was recently elected treasurer of the National Association of Health Underwriters' Board of Trustees at its 91st Annual Convention and Exhibition.

"Alycia has been a valuable member of our board, and I am delighted she will continue serving on the board of trustees as our new treasurer," said Janet Trautwein, CEO of NAHU. "Alycia has an outstanding track record as a leader, and I look forward to working with her to support and advance the interests of NAHU's members."

Riedl is currently a principal and client relationship manager in Mercer's Minneapolis office. Riedl has been a member of NAHU since 2007. She served as president of the Minnesota Association of Health Underwriters from 2013-14, and chair of the Board from 2014-15. She has also served as NAHU's Region 4 vice president and most recently, NAHU's board of trustees' secretary from 2020-21.

Riedl graduated from the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities with a degree in psychology and received her MBA from Saint Mary's University of Minnesota in 2007. She currently lives in Minneapolis with her family.

"I am thrilled to continue on the board in this new capacity and work side by side with some of the most talented and knowledgeable people in the health benefits industry," Riedl said. "Together, we will work to advance NAHU's mission to provide all of our chapters on the local, state and national level with the support they need to continue providing the American public with affordable, high-quality health coverage."
